

BI-FUDAN PRESENTS
Leadership Salon VI

Global leadership and complexity theory: An alternative to culture?

As business is getting ever more global, the interest in global leadership is also rising. Many books and reports keep listing specific cultures, as if these would be constant. But cultures, like business, also change all the time. After working with the concept of global leadership for some time, prof. LaoYang and David Song wonder if complexity theory can help us find a more dynamic guidance. On this evening at Leadership Salon, LaoYang will share some of his thoughts on this subject, and invite the participants to make their contributions to the discussion. David Song will make a Graphic Facilitation of the process. The main slogan for the evening is 'Exploring your leadership identity – lessons for global leadership from complexity theory.'

Language: English

Date: Tuesday May 26, 2015

Program:

18:30-19:00 Registration and networking

19:00-20:30 Presentation by Prof. Jan Ketil Arnulf, BI-Fudan MBA Program;

Graphic Facilitation by Mr. David Song, Quality and Training Manager, Greater China, Getinge Infection Control AB

20:30-21:00 Discussion and Q&A

Address: ROOF 325 Restaurant , 5F, 325 West Nanjing Road, Shanghai (near North Huangpi Road) 南京西路 325 号 5 楼, 近黄陂北路

Fee: RMB50/ pax (Including coffee and snack), On site payment (Cash Only)

Registration: Please click here to register (Limited to 40 pax, first come first served)

THE BEST OF BOTH